SIERRA MADRE, CALIFORNIA, FEBRUARY 13, 1947

VOLUME 41, NO. 21.

'Round The Square

Mayer J. Milton Steinberger was a guest of the Pasadena Kiwanis club at Eaton's yesterday. A renowned speaker on city government addressed the club and mayors of the surrounding cities were invited for the luncheon.

Dr. Daniel D'Arcy, O. D., whose offices are in the Hotel Bldg., with Mrs. D'Arcy have purchased the Hoegge property at 309 East Sierra Madre Blvd., just east of Mrs. Grace McCarty's residence. The D'Arcys plan to build as soon as materials permit.

The Sierra Madre Hardware as did also the Edison Company devoted their windows to the spirit of Boy Scouting this week. It is an inspiring moment to pause and read the scout pledge and look over Scout equipment arranged beneath the two Scout flags.

Ralph Hurwit (Ralph's Shoes), says he expects to be moved into his new location across the street by the week end. Apparently the painting and new display windows are nearly completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Bowman of 31 North Baldwin Ave. will be moving into their newly built home on Skyland Drive. The house is an adorable hillside modern home with lovely view of the valley. It was built by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Straughan, who are leaving this week with their son and daughter for Terre Haute, Ind., which was their home before the war. Mr. Straughan says the sojourn in Sierra Madre was all a part of his trip home from Pearl Harbor.

VALENTINE

MARY WARD
You wear gems of pepper coral
Upon your jade-green gown;
Wistaria twines your ringlets
And forms a jeweled crown.

California, are you wooing
Loves from sister States
Who read warm words of welcome
Above your rose-wreathed gates?

Here midst orange and acacia
The weary learn to play.
My California Valentine,
You've won my heart today.

LEE SHIPPEY

If you don't know what a moron is, it is anyone brainless enough to think it is fun to set palm trees afire. It might cause destruction of homes and even loss of life.

It makes firemen get out of bed in the middle of the night and costs the city money. It destroys beautiful trees. Can anyone who does all that be credited with using his brains?

BREAKS WRIST

The season for broken bones seems to have arrived. Russell Stillman, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Stillman of 33 Sierra Place, took a fall a week ago Tuesday when his bicycle caught in the car tracks on Baldwin, breaking his right wrist and spraining the left one. He spent the balance of the week at home but is now back attending classes at Wilson Junior High.

NOREN EATON
Chairman of the Red Cross Campaign Fund

Judge Eaton announced that the drive will start March 3rd and will be a concerted drive as was last year's, lasting only one week.

The quota for 1947 will be $3,545.00. Of this total $1300 will go to the national organization, the balance of $2245.00 to be retained for use of the local chapter.

Woman's Club Hears
Semi-Yearly Reports
After Kirkwood Talk

Mrs. Billheimer Read
Two Delightful Numbers

"Lest We Forget" was the topic of a stirring address given Wednesday at the luncheon meeting of the Woman's Club by James W. Kirkwood, instructor at Santa Ana and Lancaster Air Bases during the war. In a program presented by Mrs. Randall Perry, Mrs. J. S. Billheimer displayed her usual charm in readings entitled "Those Flowering Friends" by Corseth and "The Whistling Barber" by Daly, given in Italian dialect.

Semi-yearly reports from club chairmen revealed 21 boxes of clothing sent to The Netherlands in September and four in December under the direction of Mrs. John Fergus who heads Philanthropy; help in furnishing the solum for women at Veterans Hospital at Sawtelle; Christmas gifts sent to adults and children at Rancho Los Amigos; and Christmas gifts of money and turkeys to the Mary Martha Home for Girls. Thirty-six new members have been received since the fall opening, as announced by Mrs. Ora Olsen, president.

BENEFIT DANCE

A number of young people about town, headed by J. S. Wolcott, have arranged for a benefit dance Saturday evening, February 15th, at the Woman's Clubhouse. It will be given for George Coble of Mira Monte who was so seriously injured recently in a motorcycle accident. George is in the L. A. General Hospital and will be unable to work for months.

All merchants and everyone approached have offered to give or buy tickets.

All contributions were voluntary. Tables were attended by members of the Civic Club in front of the Bank and Post Office. Other members took charge of the collection at the Sierra Madre Theatre, with Mrs. Ann Tyler in charge.

Received by mail, $221.61; organizations and clubs, $119.75; Sierra Madre Theatre, $227.44; St. Rita's school, $28.46; Grammar school, $74.44; collected from 20 boxes about town, $328.22; business houses, $90.00, totalling $1080.00. The largest check turned in from an organization was from the Firemen of the city.

Campfire Leaders
Entertain Pasadena
Area Thursday Eve.

Sierra Madre Campfire leaders were hostesses Thurs. eve at the school cafeteria to the leaders of the Pasadena area.

Mrs. C. Lauren Maltby, president of the local chapter, introduced Mrs. Don Parker who gave a very interesting travelogue of her Scandinavian trip last summer. Mrs. Parker made a great many colored stills on her trip which she showed during the evening.

The organizations sponsoring Campfire in the city were special guests, including Sierra Madre Woman's club, P.T.A., Kiwanis and the American Legion Auxiliary.

The refreshments served later in the evening were especially appetizing in a valentine motif.

February Significant In Work and Life of Dr. Wall

February is a significant month for Dr. Bernardt Wall of Bella Vista Terrace, who has been associated with most of the outstanding men and events which are commemorated this month.

First of all, one naturally associates the well-known local ether with Abraham Lincoln, whose life and times have given Wall inspiration for his most widely known and best loved etchings, some of which hang in the Library of Congress, the Huntington Library and other leading galleries. In all, Lincoln's life has been the subject of 85 books of Wall's etchings.

Among the Lincoln literature turned out by this prolific artist, is an etched copy of a little known eulogy delivered by the Great Emancipator on George Washington, whose birthday is celebrated February 22.

And of course, Edison's birthday which was celebrated on Tuesday recalled an occasion on which the local artist made an etching of the great inventor at work in his laboratory.

However, the anniversary of the sinking of the Battleship Maine on February 15, is perhaps the February event which has most engaged the artist's attention, for he is generally credited with being most instrumental in raising the ship.

His first introduction to the battered hulk of the Old Spanish War victim, was in 1898 shortly after her sinking in Havana harbor. The young artist, then serving in the American Army in Cuba, made a sketch of the ship's masts and superstructure which raised themselves above the harbor surface.

And in 1910, it was Bernardt Wall, then New York State Commander of the United Spanish War Veterans, who led the drive resulting in passage of a bill through Congress to raise the Maine.

Three motives were given for this project: (1) to clear Havana harbor of a menace to navigation; (2) to give appropriate burial to the bodies still interred with the wreckage, and (3) to ascertain the cause of the explosion that had wrecked the ship 12 years earlier.

The public meeting which gave impetus to the drive was recalled this week by Wall, who was chairman of a memorial service for the heroes of the Maine, held in New York's Carnegie Hall on February 20, 1910.

Among those who spoke at the meeting were Ambassador to Great Britain Joseph H. Choate; Rear Admiral Sigbee, who had commanded the Maine at the time of her destruction; Congressman William Sulzer of New York, later governor of his state; Monsignor Chidwick, who had been chaplain of the Maine, and other survivors of the ship's sinking.

A resolution was adopted at this meeting, calling on the President and Congress for a bill to authorize raising of the ship.

It was Wall's privilege to carry the resolution to Washington and present it to President William Howard Taft, and to Congress. The bill drafted to raise the Maine was passed almost immediately by both houses of Congress and signed by the President. The ship which had inspired the rallying cry "Remember the Maine"—for the Spanish-American War—was being substantially remembered.

Later, in March, 1912, when the broken ship was raised from her shallow resting place and the bodies removed for burial in the United States, Wall was on hand making a pictorial record of her final journey. His verbal description of the event follows:

"On the 16th of March at three o'clock, Havana harbor had every available ship loaded with people to see the last journey of the Maine down the harbor's mouth, out to sea three miles and there buried decently."

"A huge flag waved in the breeze as our official boat followed in the last wake of the historic ship. The cruiser Birmingham and battleship North Carolina followed closely behind, as well as hundreds of all kinds of craft."

"At the three mile limit, the warships halted while a boat load of sailors went aboard the Maine to open her sea cocks. In about 15 minutes one could see the ship sinking low into the sea, and at 5:23 she came up vertically and settled stern first into No-Man's sea for all time. And so after 14 years, the controversy of the Maine was closed in fitting ceremonies."

Goes To New Pastorate

The Holy Name Society of St. Rita's Church is giving a farewell party for the men of the parish this evening for Fr. Eustace Eilers, C.P., who is leaving Sierra Madre next Sunday for Birmingham, Ala.

Fr. Eustace will assume the duties of Pastor of a colored church, the Holy Family church. He will have under his supervision a grade and high school and hospital. He has served as assistant to Fr. Leo Scheibel, C.P. at St. Rita's for nearly two years. Fr. Eilers' parents live in Los Angeles and he is serving his 8th year as a missionary from the Passionist Fathers Monastery.

Will Reside At Aberdeen, S. D.

The marriage of Mrs. Mary Agnes Otte, housekeeper at St. Rita's for 18 years and active in work of the parish, to Albert Manual Tessier of Aberdeen, South Dakota, took place Tuesday at 9 a. m. at St. Rita's Church with the Rev. Leo Scheibel officiating.

Breakfast followed the service at the Pasadena Athletic Club after which the couple left on a trip to Palm Springs. Mr. and Mrs. Tessier will be at home April 1 at Aberdeen but plan to return to Sierra Madre for the winter.

DEDICATION OF
DONALD NELSON
MEMORIAL SUN.

A very impressive service took place Sunday morning at the Congregational Church when the Donald Nelson Memorial

CPL. DONALD NELSON

Boy Scout Rooms were dedicated.

After the regular church service the congregation and Boy Scout Troops No. 1 and No. 3, who attended the service in uniform, retired to the Scout Headquarters of the church to dedicate the new rooms. Mr. and Mrs. Norman O. Nelson gave the funds for rebuilding a most modern Scout group of rooms in memory of their son, Cpl. Donald Nelson, who lost his life February 25, '45 at the Invasion of Iwo Jima.

Cpl. Nelson, a member of the Congregational church, fought with the 3rd Commando Marines and in his 32 months of service went through the heaviest of the Pacific combat, Guadalcanal, Bougainville and Guam. He was to have returned home after the invasion of Iwo Jima.

The presentation of the Memorial was made by Cpl. Nelson's father and accepted for the church by Francis S. Dane, Jr.

GIRL SCOUTS MAKE
HUGE BIRTHDAY CAKE

The observance of Boy Scout week in Sierra Madre was participated in by all troops of the city with the Girl Scouts presenting a birthday cake to their brother organization.

The event was scheduled to take place at the Youth Hut with outdoor games, singing and barbecue but the bad weather forced the program to be completed at the Congregational Church.

Troop No. 1 had the honor of presenting the colors and James Carlson gave the pledge. Each troop gave a skit for the pleasure of the parents and guests, and the newest troop, No. 4, closed with taps, played by Loren Jones.

Julie Conzelman made the presentation of a large birthday cake from the Girl Scouts, Francis Eakman and George Hannaford directed the Scouts in their songs of the evening.

KIWANIS GROUP
TO COMPLETE HUT SUNDAY

Wm. Estes, chairman of youth activities of Kiwanis, announces that the last work at the Youth Hut by Kiwanis will be completed next Sunday if enough Kiwanians turn out to complete the job.

The cement steps in front, varnishing inside and some painting will finish the building. Also two heating stoves will be installed. It is hoped that the Hut will be ready to turn over to the Youth Commission for use.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served during the work period 9 to 12 Sunday, February 16th.

LOCAL MEN WORKING
NEAR CARRIED BOY
FROM ACCIDENT SCENE

David Lovejoy is entertaining a mild case of poison oak at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Lovejoy of 74 West Grandview, as the only physical reminder of his 300 foot fall last Saturday from the Mt. Wilson Trail.

In talking with David this morning he said other than feeling sore all over he felt none the worse for what might have been a serious accident. He and six friends were making a trip to Mt. Wilson and when running to locate part of the group which had become separated he tripped and went over the cliff. When asked what the sensation was as he was going down he said he felt very scared. He remembered landing about 100 feet down on a ledge and decided to wait quietly for help and that was the last he remembered until he awoke on his way to the hospital.

David thinks that as he lost consciousness on the narrow ledge that he lost his balance or fainted and fell the remaining 200 feet. When he was found by four carpenters and the Osi boys, whom his companions notified when they went back down the trail for help, he was lying on a large pile of brush which probably saved his life. The four carpenters were Harold Straughan of 871 Skyland Drive and Bill, Jack and Tom Masters of Pasadena.

Mr. Straughan was at his home, and the other men were working near by. Fred Osi, Jr., carried David up the steep bank while his brothers, Louie and Marino pushed. David was carried with an improvised stretcher of sweaters and belts down the trail to the entrance where the Foresters from the Santa Anita Ranger Station were waiting to take the patient to the hospital.

David was able to return to school at St. Rita's Monday but the appearance of poison oak will keep him home for a few days.

Lions Club Granted Use of Park
For Pioneer Homecoming Days

Business of the city was conducted Tuesday night in regular council meeting before a large gathering of citizens who voiced protests against cancellation of its arrangement with the California Federation for Child and Animal Protection for management of the City Pound and pet supervision.

Upholding the operation of the Federation and favoring a humane program to be carried out independent of outside help were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Thayer, John Porter, Mrs. Joseph Quinter, Mrs. Thomas E. Moon and Mrs. G. T. Tyler who presented petitions bearing more than 200 names of residents favoring a local program. Letters from Mrs. Harold E. Shogren, Mrs. Eugene Calkin and R. L. Dumas protested turning responsibility back to the San Gabriel Valley Humane Society and Harvey Steinberger appeared in favor of the Police department handling the dog situation.

Protestants were assured by Mayor Steinberger that, despite the council's former action, the San Gabriel Valley Humane Society has not yet been notified to take over although the contract with them is still in effect. Councilman Hoegge stated that Sierra Madre has no dog catcher at present.

Mrs. Thayer called attention of council to discrepancies of figures published last week on costs of the dog program and was assured that the figures would be checked. Had the program been continued for the entire year, she pointed out, profit would have been shown instead of a deficit.

Attention was promised to C. H. Gerke who addressed the council on behalf of Ramona Avenue paving where property owners are contributing towards the cost of the project.

A letter from the Lions Club acquainted the city of plans to sponsor a Pioneer and Homecoming Days of Sierra Madre celebration for May 30, 31 and June 1, with the object to create interest and publicity for the city and to raise money for worthwhile objectives such as Youth recreation activities. The program was approved and request for use of the city park days.

DO YOU RECALL?

FEBRUARY 13, 1909

A large audience, both of gentlemen and ladies, attended the Monday afternoon meeting of the Woman's Club, which celebrated the centenary of Lincoln's birthday. After the singing of "My Country 'Tis of Thee", Captain J. A. Osgood spoke feelingly of meeting with Lincoln when a boy at the Essex preparatory school and related interesting stories of the great president.

Mrs. Mary A. Webster celebrated on Thursday her 80th birthday anniversary. Five of her seven children were present at the birthday dinner party, one son, E. J. Webster, coming from Brooklyn, N. Y.

Miss Cora Toy of San Raphael Heights was a luncheon guest of Alma Jones on Monday. Later Miss Rhea, Miss Blumer and Miss Jones were guests of Miss Toy in an auto party.

One of the prettiest of many charming luncheons enjoyed by the Bridge Club was that given by Mrs. C. W. Jones on Tuesday. The rooms were attractively decorated with yellow acacia and the same color scheme was used on the luncheon table.

The need for a first class tourist hotel in Sierra Madre and means of securing it were discussed at Monday evening's meeting of the Board of Trade. Named on a committee to investigate the possibilities of such a project were: Charles S. Kersting, J. J. Graham, J. W. Keys, W. S. Andrews, C. W. Jones, A. S. Mead, M. H. Bridle and W. H. Kindig.

At the annual Pre-Lenten dance of the Modern Priscillas Thursday evening, a large attendance turned out despite the rain. The proximity of St. Valentine's Day was indicated by the profusion of hearts adorning the walls.

POLICE BLOTTER

Barking DOG; No-o-o-o-o... Officer Lewis reported that the dog was barking at the moon. A stray dog prowls around a yard. Might be bones buried there. "Not a police matter." This proved to be a sad affair. A young couple severing relations. Wedding gifts divided. Parking on private property is NOT SO GOOD... A 2½ year old boy frightened his mamma when he strolled away to visit a neighbor. Margaret at the Pratt's Mart found the child at the store. She returned him to his home... BARKING DOGS! NO-O... Bike stolen and recovered all on the same day...

FEBRUARY 13, 1931

Former Mayor William J. Lawless returned to the City Council at a meeting of that body Wednesday night when the resignation of Philip W. Senour was received and accepted. Chosen by unanimous vote of the four remaining members, Mr. Lawless immediately took oath of office and again assumed his place at the Council table.

Detailed plans to make Central Avenue from Sierra Madre Avenue to Baldwin, bloom like a rose for the Olympic period, were made Tuesday night at a meeting of the City Planning Commission.

Mrs. Vernon Udell was elected president of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Volunteer Firemen at a meeting in the City Hall club rooms Friday evening.

Miss Elizabeth Morgridge, assisted by Miss Moreland Kortkamp at the piano, gave several selections at the Vesper services on Sunday at Pasadena Junior College.

Misses Dorothy and Kathleen Moore of West Central Ave. enjoyed the week end at Camp Seeley in the San Bernardino mountains with a group of young people from U. C. L. A.

Construction of a new bridge over the little Santa Anita wash on Sturtevant Road in Sierra Madre Canyon and enactment of a new motor vehicle tonnage ordinance covering roads in the Canyon has been requested of the City Council by the Canyon Improvement Association.

The home of the Rev. and Mrs. William D. Ogg on North Mountain Trail Ave., will be the scene of a Valentine party, this evening, when the Intermediate Christian Endeavor Society of Bethany Church will entertain.

PROWLER! We must have at least one such report...

Suspicious Car... Be on the alert for building materials thieves. The night patrolmen have squelched several thefts by showing up before the stuff could be taken away. Small child while riding a bicycle is thrown to street when hit by a truck. Fortunately, the child was not seriously injured. Drivers of cars MUST be alert for the careless riding of children on bicycles. Children MUST be more careful and on the look out for cars. A boy is injured during a game of basketball at the park. 'Tis a ruff game, that basketball. A driver of a truck without notifying anyone that he had orders from his boss to transfer materials from a new house to another new house, aroused the curiosity of the neighborhood and the cops were called. That is the proper co-operation to prevent thievery and crime... Lost Ration books. That all that stuff was off... A lost child, found within short distance from home... The police investigate the death of a local citizen, found by neighbors in his room... A fire call. Proved to be a smoky, simmering backyard fire, but reported that it might be a house... DOG BITE... PETTY THEFT. Happened to a local while he was in L.A. ART Udell looks the dark lamps over... Bill Chunn is reported to have answered a call to aid a lady get in her house. She had locked herself out. After climbing thru a bathroom window and crawling over everything a bathroom possesses, found out that the door was unlocked after all... Once more the wires leading from a pole to the garage at the local bath house, are down. So low that trucks drag them, this happens every so often... A braying burro back of building. Burro being too close, brings reprimand, and a notice to back the burro before suit is brot. A mother whose small boy brot home a three wheeled bike, immediately went to work to find out where he got it. He "found it". "Where?" That is where the bike was taken. (It was not reported to the police as stolen) More such kind of supervision of youth would be of much value. When young men come home with expensive fittings for their cars parents should know if the equipment was paid for or not. If it were possible, a law should be made to have bills of sales produced when people are questioned in regards to possession. The fittings on your car and my car are just as dear to us as they are to the guy who takes them from us. They cost us a lot of money.

Co-Employees Give Shower at Bevans

Friday afternoon the employees at the Bevans Kilns gave a shower for Mrs. Xelpho Strong honoring her approaching marriage to William King of Alhambra.

Mrs. Loretta Appleton read one of her famous poems which was written for the occasion. It has become a tradition at Bevans to expect an original verse from Mrs. Appleton for all birthdays and special events.

FIRE FLAMES

Because "Fire Prevention" has become the number one weapon against unwanted fires, readers can expect to see it in the papers and even in books. Our people in Sierra Madre take the idea seriously, while in some cities, folks just glance over the lines and forget it. By being fire conscious, our residents have held down the fire loss of Sierra Madre to a very low figure. There is ample proof that the idea of fire prevention here is being observed. Seldom do we have occasion to reprimand or call attention to someone disobeying our fire regulations. Of course, there will always be exceptions. We are however, very happy over the pleasant association with most of our neighbors and townsfolk. And it is a grand and glorious feeling to know that we are getting somewhere in keeping the fires out. People will realize that the fire department is a true emergency outfit, gladly lending its help in preventing fires, and in suggesting changes which will lessen the effect of a fire. It is with difficulty that some of us attempt public speaking in order to extend to the public our ideas, but we realize the necessity of such a venture. When such a tactic is tried, it is hereby asked that our dear friends of the public have patience and withhold all temptations. It must be remembered that our fire department is still in the volunteer stage and most of us are busy at other jobs. We are ever ready to accept suggestions for improvement of our department and learn how to increase the efficiency. It was a very excited fireman when Mel Morse's car caught fire last week. Altho he got it out before the arrival of the firemen, he is still subject to the razzing at the forthcoming firemen's meeting and drill. Some others will not escape a little of the same. A few major mistakes were made and none of us will be able to avoid a lot of criticism. Time will tell.

AMERICA'S HOPE... A study of grace, charm and beauty is Miss Gretchen Merrill, U. S. entrant at St. Moritz, Switzerland, international figure skating championships.

Mrs. Helen Nicol,
Mother of Mrs. Flynn
Passed Away Tues.

Mrs. Nicol was born in the British East Indies and came to the United States in 1915. She had been a resident of California for the past 12 years.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Thomas Flynn of Sierra Madre, Mrs. Mary O. Bennett of Brooklyn, N. Y., Mrs. Jean Morrill of Auburn, California; two sons, Gerald Humming of Monterey Park and Alex M. Nicol of Brooklyn, N. Y., and one sister, Mrs. Nora C. Leary of Altadena.

Mass was said at 9 a. m. at St. Rita's Church, and interment was at Calvary Cemetery, with the Grant Chapel in charge.

Florence M. Gilmore
Rites in L. A. Sat.

Services for the late Mrs. Florence M. Gilmore were held last Saturday at the Snyder Southwest Mortuary in Los Angeles. Several people expected to attend from Sierra Madre but the threatening fog made it impossible.

Mrs. Gilmore, who formerly lived on San Gabriel Court, died Sunday, February 2nd while traveling in Mexico. She was a member of the Woman's Club when here and took a deep interest in civic life. She was known for her art in flower arrangements.

YESTERDAY IS GONE! ONE
THING that living should teach us is that our mistakes of the past are dead. If we will but look up and out, not down and in, we may make of ourselves that which the Creator intended us to be. To profit by the errors of yesterday; and to banish all fear of tomorrow — surely these are the first two rungs on the ladder of happiness. Thus endeth today's lesson.

THE FOOD BUSINESS PRO-
CEEDS on a fairly even keel. True it is a bit hard for us to get used to having our orders filled on items which for so long were almost impossible to buy. Also we had become so used to the early morning rush of customers who wanted to shop before the scarce items were sold out that we often think that, alas and alack, the depression is here! But when the figgers are totalled at the end of the day, by golly, we find business is as good as ever!

PERHAPS CUSTOMERS ARE
MORE DISCRIMINATING; as they well have a right to be after what they had to put up with during the war years. However, neither you nor I should have to beg anyone to sell us anything — in food, at least — from now on out. I can honestly say that as far as MOM, POP, the GANG and I are concerned, we are still here to serve you, better than ever if possible, but to the best of our ability and in every possible, reasonable way. Know what I mean?

IT HASN'T BEEN LONG
SINCE ONLY the mention of shortening, toilet paper, margarine, soap, bacon or bananas would cause a rush. Not so now! But we are constantly trying to live up to the reputation which both you and our competitors have given us: "If anyone has it, Roberts has!"

IT MAKES ME PROUD TO
HEAR the nice things people have to say about our Meat Department. If my little ear deceives me not, we must have a greater and FINER variety of meats and delicatessen products than you can find most any place else. Incidentally, the addition of a new freezer unit to that department leaves almost nothing to be desired in the way of modern equipment for serving you better and faster!

I TALKED SO MUCH ABOUT
MY VEGETABLE corner last week that I have little to say this time, except that this week end I have a special value for you in tasty, vine-ripened Imperial Valley Tomatoes and fancy, golden-ripe Central American Bananas; also, that here you will always find "the best at its best" in fruits and vegetables.

BY THIS TIME I THINK YOU
HAVE GOT THE IDEA: "THIS IS THE PLACE TO BUY", SAYS I.

It is often surprising to find what heights may be attained merely by remaining on the level.

SCHOOL SAVINGS—

Most parents try to instill in their offspring a recognition of the value of thrift, and the need for exercising sound judgment in connection with financial matters. They realize that the ability of an individual to properly handle his money often means the difference between success and failure.

Some persons, however, have the impression that in spite of parents' efforts, most children still don't appreciate the value of money and will spend it as fast as they get it. This impression may be correct in certain cases but it is not supported by figures recently given out.

Between 300,000 and 400,000 California school children have school savings accounts and their deposits total $9 million. Now, $9 million is a tidy sum even in these days when the word "billion" fails to bring a raised eyebrow. And when one considers that this amount has been made up from the pennies, nickels and dimes of the youngsters it becomes all the more impressive.

Not infrequently the money is saved through self-denial—candy, gum or a toy is passed up in favor of thrift. The child who does this has certainly learned the importance of saving. So, we had better not sell the younger generation short in regard to finances. There are many reasons to believe that they'll do all right with their money when they grow up.

And that's important both to their future and that of the Nation.

AROUND ABOUT

NORWEGIAN HOLIDAY—A quiet day in the country.

The next morning, after a brief glimpse of the beautiful Barbara and her aunt, the hostess, as they stood side by side on the broad veranda, smiling and waving a conventional goodbye—to me and a dozen others impartially—our big car was soon chugging up a wild scenic valley toward Voss. It reminded me somewhat of Boulder Gulch in Colorado, except that it was wider and greener, but with sheer cliffs soaring up like rockets of suddenly frozen stone, down which at frequent intervals leapt waterfalls, some narrow like giant ribbons, others with the breadth and volume of a power-dam. At times there were several of these to a mile, amazing to behold in their aspects of natural beauty and in their suggestion of limitless water-power.

Then suddenly we were out in a wider valley, descending toward the village of Voss, touching at one end the clear-cut crescent of its lake's margin, from which the village of large, roomy houses with many windows—built for and largely supported by, I suspect, the tourist traffic—extends along a green hillside and faces, in the opposite direction, a large open meadow, then a dense forest of pine, beyond which, above the curving lake shore, a steep forested valley carries the gaze up between converging mountain slopes, higher and higher, to a remote ridge of cliff and glacier glistening white against the blue. Near the center of the village rises the pyramidal steeple of a 13th century church and nearby still stands today, for all I know, a two-storied timbered house whose first occupants looked out upon that same panorama a century before Columbus sailed for America.

With plenty of time before lunch, I struck out for the deep pine woods, where I found, as anticipated, was sheer delight merely to breathe the resinous perfume which its boughs distilled and shed about one—perfume free of bottles, luxury tax, and the ballyhoo of high-pressure salesmanship with "arresting" and "alluring" names. In reverse sense, this woodland perfume might fittingly be called "Husband's Night Out". Suddenly there was a glade in the forest and I came down to a broad, seemingly shallow stream whose waters glistened as they flowed swiftly over a gravel bed that sparkled like a jeweled mosaic of many colors.

I took off my shoes and socks, turned up my trousers and waded in. About the same time, a strolling young couple on the opposite bank, who proved to be English and may, from appearance, have been bride and groom, also decided to wade. Exhilarated by the pleasantly icy stimulation, we were soon exchanging remarks as we began wading towards mid-stream. But we had all been deceived by that clear mountain air and water; in spite of its appearance of being only knee-deep, it was soon evident that shoulder-deep was nearer the fact. So we had to retreat to our respective shores, from which we waved goodbyes as we continued on our ways in opposite directions, they arm-in-arm, I foot-loose and fancy free—except that my mind retained, a little enviously for a time, the image of that fair blonde head and still girlish figure resting in the curve of his arm as they moved out of sight up-stream. "Sic transit mundi!"—to which a cynic might reply, "Yes, and there goes another one—tied for life."

Returning along the hard beach of the lake shore to the village, I arrived at the Fleischer's Hotel primed, by that bracing air, for a full dinner, which was served at 2:30. This justly famous and justly expensive hostelry, with its quietly fine and perfect appointments, served us a dinner that would have appeased the appetite of an Arctic explorer—of which I made a note afterward: an excellent and steaming hot soup, a fine fish with soft cucumbers, tender well-done roast pork, brown gravy, potatoes, followed by a rich pudding topped by gooseberries and cream and followed by coffee. Not precisely a dainty meal for dainty appetites, nor were there any dainty appetites observable around the great oval guest table that day.

Everybody was happy, gay, and talkative and again I felt that the large mixed guest table which I had first observed in Scottish restaurants may be a fine social institution, adding to the gaiety of nations and promoting international amity. The buxom and rosy Norwegian waitresses, mountain girls in peasant holiday costumes of scarlet bolero and bodice of Hardanger embroidery, with their hair hanging in two thick braids down their backs, added special interest and color to the scene, properly attentive and silent as they were, with no "make-up" other than sturdy health, and Nature's blush, when they were spoken to. "Even the drinking water tastes sweet in this bonnie land," I wrote afterward in my notes. Although Voss is on the main trunkline of the railroad to Oslo, I had now made up my mind to go back to Bergen, its other terminal, 67 miles back. To appease my budgeted conscience and ease the possible strain on my purse, I decided to take a third-class ticket, which was only about one-half the rate of second class. I was soon aboard, where I found that although there were no cushions or other upholstery in the coach, its floor, window sills and seats were immaculately clean, the latter varnished to a high polish. The ventilation was good, and the return to Bergen promised to be interesting—both en route and on arrival. Oslo could wait!

Many Attended Ross Lecture Tuesday Evening

Robert Stanley Ross, C. S. B. of New York City, gave a lecture Tuesday evening at the Congregational church on Christian Science entitled "Christian Science: A Satisfying Religion." Mr. Ross is a member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The lecturer spoke substantially as follows:
When John the Baptist wondered whether Christ Jesus was the looked-for Messiah, he sent two of his disciples to the Master with the question, "Art thou he that should come, or do we look for another?" Jesus replied by pointing to his works, saying, "Go and shew John again those things which ye do hear and see: the blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and the poor have the gospel preached unto them. And blessed is he, whosoever shall not be offended in me." It is as if he had said: These people were sick and in trouble. Neither prevailing systems of religion nor medicine were capable of healing them, although they must have had ample opportunity. But look at them now! They're well and happy! Could I send John more convincing proof? Could I offer him clearer evidence of what constitutes practical, workable, satisfying religion?

Impressive Incident
Recently a young man applied for membership in a local Christian Science church. During the customary examination, he told the membership committee that he had gone from one denomination to another in what seemed to him to be a fruitless search for God. Finally he had turned to Christian Science and there had found that for which he had longed, namely, a satisfying religion. When the committee asked the applicant why he felt so sure, he answered that it was because he had found in Christian Science a religion whose teaching was based upon invariable, ever-available, demonstrable Principle. Already, with only a meager grasp of the subject, he said that he had overcome a number of physical difficulties. He had even been led to employment in the midst of world-wide unemployment. Having proved this divine Principle to be demonstrable in some ways, he said he was convinced that it was demonstrable in all ways.

To be sure, those who apply for membership in the Christian Science church are not required to express their convictions in the foregoing nor any other fixed terms. Nevertheless, this applicant's conclusions were impressive. They showed that he had grasped early one of the basic, vital facts about this new and yet old religion; for truly Christian Science is based upon invariable, ever-available, divine Principle, and this Principle can be demonstrated according to rule.

Writing on pages 146 and 147 of the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, says: "Divine metaphysics is now reduced to a system, and adapted to the thought of the age in which we live. This system enables the learner to demonstrate the divine Principle, upon which Jesus' healing was based, and the sacred rules for its present application to the cure of disease."

Requests from the Woman's Club for police protection and patrol of club grounds from a group of boys who attempt to crash evening affairs was referred to Police Chief G. G. McMillan for investigation and report.

Mr. Dunn was considered an outstanding and inspiring Catholic layman and youth leader.

A Story From The Skyways

"Mother Killed, Injured Baby Rushed Here" were the front page headlines in the Los Angeles Times Monday. "Two year old Susan Marie Brosseau of Los Angeles, gravely injured in a New Mexico highway crash that killed her mother and two other relatives last Wednesday was flown here from Albuquerque, N. M., yesterday for treatment in Children's Hospital. The baby arrived early yesterday afternoon aboard a Trans World Airlines plane and was taken immediately to the hospital."

The plane mentioned above was piloted by Councilman Henry Nuetzel of Sierra Madre. Mr. Nuetzel said the child was badly injured but was a good traveler. When the plane stopped in Phoenix, ice cream was bought which she was able to eat. Mr. Nuetzel said, "Supposing it were my child."

BALLING BABY TALK

BY MAXINE BALLING

"OOO! AREN'T THEY DARLING!" is what every mother says when she sees the little Barbara Boyd silk Bengaline coats that just arrived at the Balling Baby Shop. And they really are the cutest things. Sizes 1 to 3. Pink or blue, with a little bustle, and small bud boutonniere. You know how "pussy" silk Bengaline is? Well, now the little tots really can rustle the bustle! They're $4.95.

EVER SEE A MAGIC SKIN BABY DOLL? Well, it's the nearest thing to actual skin we've ever seen, a soft new material made of plastic, and the doll's entire body is of this unusual material. Lots of people were asking for them last Christmas, but it seems that none of the stores had them. They just came in, in their underwear, ready to be dressed.

AND about this time of the year you're probably getting tired seeing last Christmas's toys left scattered all over the place. For that situation we have a new "Whimsy" toy chest, which really is a wagon, 24 inches long and about a foot deep, with cute colorful animals and clowns painted on all sides. Of course the idea is that little Johnnie is supposed to be induced to pick up his toys each day and put them in this nice big chest on wheels, but we don't guarantee that he will. However, if you find that YOU still have to pick them up, the chest is a nice thing to keep them in, and makes it a little easier for YOU.

ANOTHER practical gadget is the new "Train-Well" step, which is a pint-size step-stool similar to the one you probably have in your kitchen, with one step which lets down from inside the stool part. This one is just the right height for little fellows to get up to the lavatory, or to sit on when dressing, or just possibly to facilitate in the act of getting into the cookie jar. One model is $3.75, and there's one with wheels, $4.25.

JUST RECEIVED some nice new boys' sweaters—all-wool slip-overs with "crew" neck. They're those nice wide horizontal stripes that they like, too, in red, blue, navy and yellow. $2.95.

LOTS OF CUTE THINGS for gifts for babies are coming in now. For instance, "Baby Craft" has some clever new ideas in baby shoes, some with laced soles. The felt shoes are $1.50, and soft kid are 1.75. And when you buy gifts at the Balling Baby Shop, we wrap them for gifts or mailing, you know. You can open a charge account too, if you like that convenience. The Balling Baby Shop at 401 1/2 South Myrtle, in Monrovia.

Centennial THOMAS ALVA EDISON 1847-1947

The forces that Thomas Alva Edison set in motion roll down the years with ever-gathering momentum. The single light that shone first in his Menlo Park laboratory has become a beacon that lights the world. The power that flowed from that first successful central electric generating station he built in New York has swelled into a force that lightens the burdens of all mankind. The passage of time only adds to the stature of the man and the magnificence of his achievements. It is fitting that we should pay tribute to Edison on the centennial of his birth... but only the future can give us the true perspective of his greatness.
